ABSTRACT

A method of producing a sheet of coated substrate, comprising:

providing a substrate;

providing a solution or dispersion of a first material that adheres to the substrate mixed

5 with an amine terminated material;

coating the provided substrate with the solution; and drying the substrate coated with the solution to form a solid coating thereon.